

Al Dams has been the Praise Band Director since November 2011. Al is a music lover who appreciates a wide range of styles, including reggae, ska, rockabilly, Americana, punk, classic rock, classic country, and jazz. Al has played in many original bands over the last 30 years, and his bands have been supporting acts for national touring artists. Al is a self-taught musician who has played guitar, bass and drums in various bands. Al and his wife Marie have been married for 18 years and have three children: Dominic, Vince, and Bianca. They have lived in the unincorporated area of the Lower Snoqualmie Valley for the last 15 years. Al is a third generation Northwest native, as his parents and one set of grandparents were born here. That's why the rain doesn't bother him.
