

One of the Lutheran traditions is providing food and fellowship. We continue this tradition following the second service on Sundays and at other events.

Everyone looks forward to the fellowship time following the service. What better way than to congregate around a little finger food?

Share your thoughts on this page and help us improve our content. We're always looking for ways to make our site more useful and enjoyable for you. Your input is appreciated. Thank you for your contribution to our community's growth and success.